RESPIRATORY & EAR INFECTIONS

"My son started at the young age of about 4 months getting ear infections and was also having a lot of respiratory issues. He was in the pediatricians office at least once a month and was being put on different antibiotics for the infections. He was still getting them so often that we then saw a ENT specialist who told us tubes would be the best option for him. Even after tubes he was still getting infections. He was also seeing a Pulmonologist for his breathing issues after being hospitalized for pneumonia. He was then put on breathing treatments 3 times a day. I had exhausted all of my options and started to do research...that's when I found Dr. Nick.

I was quite skeptical taking a child to a chiropractor, but after the first visit and hearing what Dr. Nick had to say it made sense. I am so happy to say that my son has now been taken off all of his breathing treatments because his doctors say he sounds great. He has also not had an ear infection in months! It is so nice not having to worry about him not feeling well and taking him in and out of doctors offices every week, to be handed the same medications that were not working. He is such a happy and healthy toddler!

I love the family friendly environment at Innate. As soon as we walk in the door we are greeted by name and the staff seems genuinely concerned about how my son is doing. Dr. Nick is so calm, patient and friendly. He makes sure my son is comfortable and asks how he is doing and is so informative with everything going on. My son also loves going to "Dr. Nick's house", as he calls it, to "play with all of his toys" in the play room!"
